what’s new?

UCalgary and Quantum City
From nanotechnology and artificial intelligence to quantum internet and biomedical engineering, Calgary is becoming a true quantum capital city.
Quantum City, announced by UCalgary, the Government of Alberta and leading technology company Mphasis, will create up to 1,000 jobs and help diversify our economy. UCalgary has 130 academics across several fields working in a transdisciplinary fashion to help make Calgary a quantum leader.
They’re designing quantum computers to tackle the toughest problems and strengthen cybersecurity. And they’re taking advantage of this ever-increasing computing power to develop methods to calculate the properties of complex molecules, from water to proteins.
“UCalgary’s entrepreneurial approach makes us uniquely positioned to create and commercialize new quantum technologies,” says Dr. William Ghali, vice-president (research).

Indigenous Supplemental Admission process
UCalgary acknowledges and respects the rich diversity of learners and of their communities, cultures, traditions, aspirations and abilities. In order to ensure equitable access and successful participation of Indigenous learners, UCalgary is pleased to offer a number of new bridging/pathway options for eligible students of Indigenous ancestry, i.e., First Nations (status and non-status), Métis and Inuit. These pathways include our Indigenous admission supplementary process, and our Indigenous Student Access Program.

Notes

- Two courses in the same subject area may not be presented to satisfy entrance requirements unless the courses are Mathematics 30, Mathematics 30-2, Mathematics 31, or equivalent. |       |
- Only one senior-level course of the same language may be used to satisfy admission requirements. |       |
- A maximum of one Fine Arts course may be used for admission. |       |

Footnotes

1. The early admission average will be calculated on grades from 20-level courses (Grade 10). If grades for 30-level courses (Grade 12) are available, they’ll be used to calculate a student’s admission average. A 20-level or 30-level (or equivalent) of each required course must be presented for an average to be calculated.

2. A grade of at least 70% in Mathematics 30-1 is required for admission.

FAQs

Q How many programs can a student apply for?

A When a student applies for admission, they’re able to select two program choices. If they receive an offer of admission to their first choice program, this is the only offer of admission they’ll receive. We recommend students rank their application choices with their most desired program as their first choice.

Q How is the admission average calculated?

A An early admission average will be calculated on Grade 11 or junior-level required courses (or equivalent), or based on a student’s predicted results. If Grade 12 or senior-level courses (or equivalent) are available, they’ll be used to calculate the average.

Q My student isn’t completing a required Grade 12 course until the winter term. Will a student’s Grade 12 course be used?

A Every program will have five faculty-specific courses required for admission — students can look up their program of interest to see the required courses. For current high school students, UCalgary will review applications using the Grade 11 required course if the Grade 12 required course isn’t completed. Note that all courses must be completed by June 30, 2022, to qualify for the fall 2022 intake.

Q What are the conditions of admission and what’s needed to keep an offer of admission?

A If a student has received an offer of admission with conditions, the details of these conditions will be in their offer letter and status link on my.ucalgary.ca. We’ll finalize our offer when these conditions are met — normally mid-July to the end of August for most high school students.

Footnotes

1. The early admission average will be calculated on grades from 30-level courses (Grade 11), if grades for 30-level courses (Grade 12) are available, they’ll be used to calculate an admission average. A 20-level or 30-level (or equivalent) of each required course must be presented for an average to be calculated.

The chart below shows which courses from each province and territory are equivalent to the Alberta high school courses listed in our admission requirements.

Students can visit our admissions requirements page to find requirements specific to their program and region: ucalgary.ca/future-students/undergraduate/requirements

English language requirements

There are three ways to meet our English language entrance requirements: high school studies, English language test scores, and the Academic Communication Certificate.

High school studies

To meet the English language requirements with high school studies, students must have completed three years of study in an ELP exempt country, or at an accredited high school (Canadian, American, British or CIS school) where English is the primary language of instruction. Their final English course must also be equivalent to Alberta’s senior-level (Grade 12) English.

Learn more at: ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/a-11

English language test scores

If a student’s high school education doesn’t fulfill UCalgary’s English language requirements, they can present one of the minimum scores listed in the table below.

Note: Our school code for the TOEFL exam is 0813 and the department code is 00.

For more details on English language requirements and exempt countries, visit: ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/a-11

Indigenous students

The University of Calgary has several pathway options to support Indigenous learners in the admission process. Students must self-identify to be automatically considered for all pathways.
