

UNDERGRADUATE INTERNATIONAL RESEARCH GRANT TERMS & CONDITIONS

OVERVIEW

In accepting the Undergraduate International Research Grant, you agree to the following terms and conditions:

- Submit a Program Report within three (3) weeks of completing your program abroad. The Program Report will be available on the website and/or via email when near the commencement of your program. Any questions should be sent to intlstdt@ucalgary.ca. Please note that this report will be shared with the Undergraduate International Research Grant sponsors.
- Upon return, promote internationalization amongst the UCalgary student body (e.g. activities could include classroom or other presentations, volunteering at a study abroad promotional display or event, writing an article or blog post, participating in the international video contest, etc.).

There will be a number of events organized throughout the year by the Study Abroad Office that you can participate in. However, you are also welcome to take advantage of other opportunities organized by your faculty or department or come up with something on your own. For events not organized by our office, please notify intlstdt@ucalgary.ca of your participation. Be sure to describe the activity, including the date and time commitment involved;

- Reimbursement Clause: In the event that you are unable to begin your planned international research experience by March 31, 2021, you agree to immediately notify the Undergraduate International Research Grant coordinator at intlstdt@ucalgary.ca and reimburse this funding to the University of Calgary in care of University of Calgary International within two weeks of the planned commencement of your period abroad.

In addition, if you fail to comply with academic and non-academic misconduct policies of the University of Calgary and/or your host institution, you must immediately reimburse the funding.

- RISK CLAUSE: All students, regardless of destination, must attend a pre-departure orientation prior to your departure. If you have not attended a session already, please contact the Study Abroad Office or your Education Abroad Advisor for details on upcoming sessions.
